

Miller's Mini Barn's

New Ownership Public Announcement

Over the past 25 years, Miller's Mini Barns has built a strong reputation across Indiana, Ohio, and Kentucky—serving countless families and businesses with quality storage buildings and outdoor solutions. We are deeply grateful for the many members of the Miller family who invested vision, effort, and dedication into shaping this company into what it has become today.

We also recognize that trust in the company's name has been shaken in recent months. For that reason, we want to be absolutely clear: Miller's Mini Barns has been sold and is now under new ownership. The company is no longer associated in any way with the original founder, and the circumstances of the past are separate from the direction and leadership guiding the business today.

The decision to move away from the Miller's name was not an easy one. The brand has earned a sterling reputation, but in order to protect that legacy and build a stronger future, we feel it is necessary to establish a new path forward.

The business will now operate under Rollin Mini Barns—a trusted shed builder with 25 years of experience—and Stoll Furniture Company, a nearly 50-year-old family business specializing in kitchens, baths, handcrafted American-made furniture, and outdoor living spaces. Together, we are committed not only to preserving the quality and service you have come to expect, but also to raising the standard even higher.

What This Means for You

- All locations in Salem, Greenwood, New Albany, and Sellersburg remain open.
- You will continue to see the same product lines and well-known brands.
- All phone numbers will stay the same, so you can continue reaching us just as you always have.
- The Miller's Mini Barns website will remain active in its current form until a new, more robust website is launched. At the time of the official renaming, the Miller's site will function as a simple landing page, redirecting you to our new and improved websites.
- We are excited to introduce some new faces to better serve you:

- Dale at our Greenwood location.
- Corey at our Sellersburg/Charlestown Road location.
- We are also very pleased that Anna, our Salem office manager, will continue with us. Her wealth of knowledge and dedication to customers is an invaluable asset we are proud to keep on board.
- Equally important, our structure installation team, barn delivery crew, and furniture delivery team remain largely intact. These skilled professionals—familiar faces to many of our customers—are committed to carrying the company into the future with the same dependable service and craftsmanship you have always trusted.

As new owners, our mission is simple: to build on the foundation that was started, to grow these locations, and to serve you even better in the years ahead.

We ask for your understanding as we transition into this new chapter, and we warmly invite you to stop in, meet our team, and see the positive changes already underway.

Here's to the next 25 years—we wish you the very best and look forward to serving you with integrity and excellence.
